Overview

This Stakeholder Engagement pack includes all assets and tools you may need to help promote your involvement at the ASBESTOS Conference 2027.

ASBESTOS 2027, presented by the Faculty of Asbestos Management Australia and New Zealand (FAMANZ), is the region's leading event for the asbestos management industry, bringing together the people doing the work on the ground, the experts advancing the science, and the decision-makers shaping policy.

This year's theme, Road to Removal, reflects where our industry is headed, from identification through to safe removal, disposal and beyond. Across three days in Christchurch, delegates will hear from leading voices in regulation, research and practice, and take part in hands-on sessions designed to translate insight into real-world application.

EVENT INFORMATION TEXT:
The Faculty of Asbestos Management of Australia and New Zealand (FAMANZ) are excited to announce that the ASBESTOS 2027 Conference is heading to Christchurch, New Zealand.

Set among world-renowned gardens and the Avon River, Christchurch blends natural beauty with bold reinvention. Following the 2011 earthquakes, the city has emerged stronger than ever, defined by innovative architecture, dynamic public spaces and a thriving creative culture.

It's a fitting home for ASBESTOS 2027. Just as Christchurch has rebuilt with purpose and resilience, our industry continues to move forward on its own road to removal, driven by collaboration, innovation and a shared commitment to a safer future.

Why Attend ASBESTOS 2027?

- Learn from the best: Hear from leading voices shaping the future of asbestos management
- Connect with your industry: Meet removalists, assessors, regulators and researchers from across Australia and New Zealand
- Stay ahead of the curve: Get the latest on regulation, science and best practice
- Be part of the solution: Join the conversations driving real change on the road to removal
- Grow your network: Build relationships that last well beyond the conference
- Bring back real value: Walk away with practical tools and insights for your team

This is more than a conference. It's where the asbestos management community comes together to tackle our region's biggest challenges, share what's working, and chart the path ahead.
